

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER WHICH SOCIETY PEOPLE LIKE TO TALK ABOUT.

A SOCIAL event of much more than ordinary interest and brilliancy was the wedding of Mr. Max Hammerslough and Miss Ida Copius. The event took place at the Montana on Thursday evening of last week. The company was large, the list of the guests including many friends of the bride and groom from Butte, Helena, Missoula and other cities. For the occasion the parlor of the Montana was trimmed in roses, carnations and anemones. Between one of the bow windows and the main part of the room was an arch of white silk, ornamented with flowers arranged in emblematic designs, of which the principal one was a wish bone.

At 8:30 o'clock the bridal party, preceded by the flower girls, Miss Stella Copius and Miss Sadie Jones, both in white, and the pages, Charlie Cohen and Julius Jones, all scattering flowers, advanced to the arch.

The charming bride, arrayed in crystal beeline, orange lace and pearls, long veil and duchess bloomers, with a bouquet of bride roses, and leaning on the arm of her father, first appeared. Then came Mrs. Copius, in an imported robe of black satin, trimmed in thread lace, with diamonds. She was escorted by the happy groom. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Nettie Strassberger, in a light-colored silk, with Dr. Spelman as escort, followed by Miss Etta Rosenfield, in white satin and embroidered crystal lace, in company with Simon Jacobs. In succession followed Miss Helen Engle, in white silk with white brocade and lace, escorted by Isador Flatow; Miss Fannie Göttinger, in pink faille and feather trimming, escorted by Jacob Kaufman; Mrs. Albert Copius, in white faille, crystal and white lace trimming and diamonds, escorted by Albert Copius; Mrs. David Cohen, in a handsome gray faille and cut steel passementerie, with David Cohen; Mrs. Alexander Cohen, in black brocade lace, cut and diamonds, with Alexander Cohen; Mrs. M. A. Mayer, in black bengaline thread lace and jet, with M. A. Mayer. The ushers were H. M. Greig, R. T. Williams, G. P. Wellcome and J. R. Walsh.

B. F. Mahan pronounced the civil marriage service and I. Rosenfield read the Hebrew ceremony. After congratulations had been received all the guests descended to the dining room and were seated at a table of horse-shoe shape, decorated with blooming plants and cut flowers. The menu was as follows:

LITTLE NECK CLAMS.
Consomme en tasse, Pickles.
Sliced tomatoes.
Baked salmon, sauce Genevoise.
Fillet of beef, a la Goddard.
New potatoes, au Beurre.
Timbales of sweetbreads, a la Francaise.
Small potatoes, a la Reine.
Punch, au Kirsch.

ROAST DUCK, WITH CHESTNUT STUFFING.
New asparagus, cream sauce.
Galantine de dinde, en Bellevue.
Champagne.
Chicken and lobster salad.
Fine apple ice cream.
Oranges.
Assorted cakes, Confections.
Cafe noir.

During the banquet musical selections were rendered by an orchestra which was stationed in the ordinary. Dr. Spelman, who was toastmaster for the occasion, put all the guests at their ease and contributed much to the enjoyment of the occasion by the happy manner in which he introduced those who were named for responses. The toast to bride and groom was gracefully answered by Mr. Rosenfield. David Cohen, ex. spoke for "The Happy Married Men." Miss Bertha Rosenfield spoke for "The Bachelors." Frank Kennedy responded handsomely for "The Ladies." J. H. Durston spoke for "The Old Married Friends." "Our Guests" were warmly complimented by G. B. Winston; "The Doctors" were discussed by Dr. McKenzie and Dr. Rockefeller; and the "Absent Friends" were eloquently remembered by B. Baruch of Butte, who spoke in German. After the banquet the guests left the dining room for a short time, to promenade in halls and parlors, while the tables and chairs were removed, and they then returned to dance until far into the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hammerslough started for Salt Lake City, where they will pass a week before taking a short trip. On their return to this city they will remain at the Montana until their future home, on Cherry street, is completely furnished. In every respect, the Hammerslough-Copius wedding was one of the most charming affairs in the social history of Anaconda. The entertainment was most hospitable, the banquet was most bounteous, good cheer was the sentiment of the hour and the congratulations to the families of bride and groom were hearty as they were sincere. An account of the wedding would fail to be complete if it neglected to pay compliment to Manager Harris, of the Montana. The sumptuous banquet he prepared and the dainty style in which it was served were the theme of generous praise among the guests. His courteous attentions did much to make the banquet an enjoyable affair. It was a delightful wedding, and the occasion will long be a pleasant memory.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammerslough were the recipients of many valuable and useful gifts, of which the following, with the names of the donors is a partial list:

Social Happenings of Importance in the Big Mining Camp.

BUTTE, June 3.—Living Whist has absorbed the attention of society in Butte during the week, rehearsals taking place almost every afternoon and evening. The greatest possible success attended the efforts of the membership of St. John's Guild, and the Living Whist entertainment was all that the most sanguine could desire.

The beautiful costumes added greatly to the attractiveness of the brilliant scene on the stage. The ladies were in evening dress, with the cards they represented designated by spots in black or red velvet on the dresses. The queens were elaborately dressed, and were the only ladies on train. The costumes of the kings were exceedingly elegant and those of the jacks were also very pretty.

These costumes were prepared with rare taste by ladies of the guild. The other gentlemen were in usual evening dress, the cards being designated on scarfs. A very neat sum was realized from the two entertainments for the organ fund of St. John's Episcopal church.

It is expected that the approaching wedding of Miss Carrie Jacobs, one of Butte's most popular young ladies, to Julius Hirschberg will be the most largely attended and most notable event ever held in Butte. Three hundred invitations have been issued for Butte alone, besides many sent to friends in other cities. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening at Curtis music hall. A reception will follow the ceremony. Some very elaborate costumes are in preparation by ladies of Butte for the occasion.

Superintendent Carroll of the water company entertained a very pleasant company at the water reservoir, 12 miles south of town, last Sunday. The picnic was most delightful, Mr. Carroll proving a royal host. A full course dinner was served, all the delicacies to be found in the west being served, while the cook was an artist. The guests included Misses Frederica and Carolyn Kenyon, Misses Napion and Misses Noyes, chaperoned by Mrs. George E. Rockwood and Messrs. Kenyon, Rockwood, Shaw, Goodale, Armstrong and Irvine. The entire day was spent in viewing the sights of the reservoir, the party returning to Butte by moonlight.

WHERE FLOWERS BLOOM.
How Missoula People Enjoy Life in One Way, and Another.

MISSOULA, June 2.—The bicycle craze has struck Missoula, and in earnest. Several new wheels have made their appearance this spring, and on pleasant evenings a dozen or more devotees of the silent steed may be seen winding their way forward. There is some talk of organizing a wheelmen's club in the University City, and of arranging a series of races during the coming season.

The ladies have not, as yet, taken very kindly to the wheel, but Missoula ladies are noted for their modesty in such matters, and probably need a little coaxing from their brethren, when we may expect to see them flying around and thoroughly enjoying this delightfully healthful exercise.

The Bennett opera house has been "dark" for the past month or more and the good people of the city are commencing to clamor for something in the line of theatrical amusement. Manager Hartley has decided to inaugurate a short season of popular plays at popular prices and has booked a superb company of players headed by Miss Carolyn Gage, for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. The opening performance will be "A Double Wrong," said to be a very entertaining light drama, and will be followed by those well-known emotional dramas "The Honeymoon" and "A Celebrated Case." On Friday evening next the Missoula Fire Brigade minstrels will make their "first appearance on any stage," regaling with new jokes, new songs, new music, etc., and promise a first-class amateur performance.

Mrs. Fair, formerly of Omaha, Neb., a sister of Mrs. W. H. Houston of this city, has decided to become a resident of the Garden City, having accepted a position as teacher in the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dolliver of Helena are enjoying a brief visit with friends in this city.

The many friends of A. W. McKown will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Tylar B. Thompson is at present visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Price of Hope, Idaho, and will remain for a short time enjoying the scenery and lake privileges of that region.

Marcus Daly, accompanied by John R. Toole, J. A. Kerrigan, Shelley Tuttle and others, spent a few hours in the University City en route to Mr. Daly's ranch at Riverside on Wednesday last.

Mrs. George B. Wilde and daughter, Mrs. Sid J. Coffee and the Misses Emma and Allie Reeves took Monday morning's overland for a combined visit to the world's fair and their respective homes in the South and will probably be absent all summer.

Platt A. Smith and wife, parents of W. P. Smith, attorney of this city, have arrived from Green Mountain, Iowa, and will remain as the guests of their son for several days.

Col. J. A. (Horse Plains) McGowan was a pleasant visitor in the Garden City during the early part of the week.

E. L. Bonner came over from Deer Lodge on Monday and remained several days.

Murray B. Miles returned early in the week from a visit to Chicago and Toledo, Ohio, at which latter place he participated as a delegate from Montana to the annual convention of the Order of Railway Conductors.

Mrs. Frank H. Henry and children, accompanied by Miss Kate Johnson, left on Thursday evening for a two-month's visit to their former home at Portland, Ore.

Fred W. Strang of the Missoula departed on Thursday of this week on a well-earned vacation tour of the Sound cities.

George T. Strudel, editor of the Bitter Root Times, came down from Hamilton on Thursday morning and enjoyed a brief visit with his many friends in the University City.

The G. I. A. of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will give a dance and supper at the Knights of Pythias hall, on the evening of June 23. Excellent music will be in keeping with those heretofore given under the auspices of this organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammerslough arrived in the garden city to-day on their honeymoon. The wedding which occurred at Anaconda last evening is said to have been an extremely fashionable affair. The groom is a well-known and popular merchant of the future capital, and Mrs. Hammerslough is a daughter of Mr. Copius, a wealthy resident of the same city.

Captain Sanborn of Fort Missoula has made application to departmental headquarters for permanent retirement and it is understood that the application has received favorable action. The captain, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Lieutenant McGuire, left for Helena Thursday evening to enjoy a brief visit with their numerous friends in the cracker city.
